Disease Management Achieves Index Medicus/ MEDLINE Listing

The journal Disease Management has been accepted for inclusion in Index Medicus, the principal bibliographic database of the National Library of Medicine. Index Medicus and its online counterpart, MEDLINE, are used internationally to provide access to the world's biomedical journal literature. The decision to index a journal for these services is based on considerations of both scientific policy and scientific quality.

Disease Management, published by Mary Ann Liebert, Inc., is a quarterly, international, peer-reviewed publication that comprehensively covers the clinical and business aspects of the emerging field of disease management. David B. Nash, MD, MBA, is the Journal's Editor-in-Chief. For more information, go to:
